

The Global Health Ethics Unit of the World Health Organization, the Wellcome Trust & the University of York WHO CC for Global Health Histories present:

Global Health Ethics Seminar 3:

Responsible Use of Antibiotics - A Question of Justice?

Dr Jasper Littmann

Action on Antibiotic
Resistance, Uppsala
University

Dr Michael Millar

Department of Infection,
Barts Health NHS Trust,
London

Dr Elizabeth Tayler

Technical Advisor on
Antimicrobial resistance,
World Health Organization

| You are warmly invited to join GHE Seminar 3 on 22 March 2016 |
| 13:00—14:30 Central European Time (Paris, GMT+01:00) |

Join the WebEx Meeting

Join us for what promises to be a fascinating panel discussion on the ethical challenges in managing antimicrobial resistance (AMR). AMR is not only a microbiological issue but an issue of access and excess, of need and want, of human versus animal health, and, most of all, about achieving the sustainable development goals. Hear the experts. Join the debate. Discover why AMR matters to us all.